From the Desk of Fr. Chris

This Feast of the Baptism of the Lord is a little different in that it straddles two seasons – it's the last day of the Christmas season and the start of Ordinary time (next week will be the Second Sunday of Ordinary time). Jesus starts his public ministry in the Gospel, and we shift our focus to the ordinary stuff of discipleship - loving God and neighbor, being merciful, asking for and offering forgiveness, and being the presence of Christ in the world. I do want to pause and thank everyone for making the Christmas season liturgies so beautiful and easy. The end of the year is a time for breaks and vacations, but many gave of themselves to make the past few weeks a time of tremendous celebration! Just think of the number of people it takes - all the people decorating and redecorating the Church and grounds, ushers and greeters at so many Masses, not to mention all our lectors and communion ministers and altar servers, fabulous music people, all the kids (and adults) that put together the Gospel on Christmas Eve, the New Year party planners, and many more working behind the scenes. It is a sacrifice of time and presence with family to put together all the community celebrations. Know that all your efforts are truly appreciated! On behalf of all the members of Corpus Christi, Thank You!

Fr. Chris †
