Living Stones

Remember to pick up a stone from the bucket near the cross in the courtyard and follow instructions on the posted sign. During Lent this year, we are called to be living stones by spreading the Good News with spiritual encouragement or statements out into the community. Also decorate your stone and leave it in parking lot medians, on a wall, near pathways, at your place of business, near schools, at appointments...where people will find it, as a way to encourage, enliven, and empower the wider community through the presence of a loving God in unexpected places, maybe more especially now in this time of uncertainty and fear.

Stations of the Cross

Parishioners may make their own Way of the Cross privately - either at the stations of the cross around the plaza or along the meditation trail. Station Pamphlets and a map of the plaza and trail are located just outside the east (plaza) doors of the Community Center. *Please do not return the pamphlet to the holder, it is yours to keep.

authenticity

1. the quality of being genuine; real
2. one's true nature or beliefs

Authenticity is rarely found in grand gestures. Not in lightning strikes or fireworks in the sky. It is a deep-rooted, gentle stirring: an invitation to be the only you there was ever meant to be.

It's the clearing away of all that is not true, peeling back the layers until you discover what was there in the beginning. It's allowing yourself to be truly known and loved, as well as really knowing and loving someone else.

It's the willingness to stand alone in doing what you believe is right, even when what's right isn't a popular choice.

Authenticity can't be copied. It can't be false. It withstands shifting sand. It resists comparison. It defies seeing yourself as who you are less than or who you're not. It's acknowledging the difference between what is fake and what is real. Because when we are real, shabbiness won't matter. Lack will disappear. Falling short will lose its foothold.

So your time is now. To welcome in the light that is all your own. To dive deep into the glorious reality of who you are meant to be.

Let's not tarry, let's not hesitate...in finding the one life we were born to claim.

This meditation is from The Magnolia Journal Spring 2019

Each of us is created in the image and likeness of God; however, it is so easy to lose sight of the beauty, the gift, the reality of who we are. Usually unaware, we begin to create a self we think is more acceptable to show to the world. During this fourth week of Lent, take time to read and reread this meditation, sitting with its meaning in your life. Next weekend, we will offer questions for thought, leading each of us deeper into rediscovering our authentic self, in order to better live in the image of our loving creator as we head into Holy Week.
