The Pastor's Musings—

(continuation from last week's Bulletin)

In the United States up until 1997, the Order of Christian Funerals clearly indicated that if cremation had been chosen, cremated remains were not to be brought into church for the funeral Mass. Even now this is permitted only in cases where special circumstances warrant it and the bishop approves. The reasoning is that the funeral rites are intended to honor the body of the deceased.

It was the body that felt the waters of Baptism, was marked with the oil of salvation and nourished by the Bread of Life. The sprinkling of the casket with holy water and the draping with the white pall are reminders of Baptism. The body is the incarnation of the presence of God in the world, the temple of the Holy Spirit. There is a substantial difference between the body of the deceased and cremated remains. The Church's thinking has rightly been that we cannot just substitute one for the other and expect our rituals and prayers to carry the same meaning.

Yet ashes and bone chips that remain after cremation are something—there is a real connection between them and the body. So, why not have them present to remind us of the one whose life we are celebrating? As sacramental people we need the “stuff” of the senses around us to help us get in touch with the deeper reality. After all, these cremated remains bear the imprint of the first creation when they were fashioned from dust. The traditional Ash Wednesday formula says it well: “Remember man that you are dust and to dust you shall return.” Catholics can easily make the connection between these remains and the body of the person they knew and loved.

In April of 1997 the Congregation for Divine Worship and the Discipline of the Sacraments granted permission allowing local diocesan bishops to permit cremated remains in church during a Funeral Mass. The decision is not automatic for every parish; it requires the permission of the local diocesan bishop, and guidelines can vary by diocese or individual pastor. While ashes are now allowed, the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops (USCCB) and general liturgical guidelines still express a strong preference for the full body to be present during the Funeral Mass, with cremation taking place afterward.

Rite of Committal As with a body, the cremated remains are always laid to rest with solemnity and dignity (Order of Christian Funerals, Appendix II #438). Properly speaking, a “funeral” is incomplete until burial or entombment. Therefore, it is inappropriate to delay interment without just cause, or to do so without the Rite of Committal.

“In death, the separation of the soul from the body, the human body decays and the soul goes to meet God, while awaiting its reunion with its glorified body. God, in His almighty power, will definitively grant incorruptible life to our bodies by reuniting them with our souls, through the power of Jesus’ Resurrection.”

(Catechism of the Catholic Church, 997)

Beyond that, we envision publishing an index of available titles, authors, and topics on the parish website.

Walk with Someone on Their Faith Journey

Have you ever considered walking alongside someone as they discover the Catholic faith? Do you sense God calling you to deepen your faith? Our Order of Christian Initiation of Adults (OCIA) ministry is seeking faithful Catholics to serve as sponsors.

A sponsor is not expected to have all the answers. Rather, a sponsor is willing to accompany another person with prayer, encouragement, friendship, and the witness of a lived Catholic faith. Many sponsors discover that the experience deepens their own relationship with Christ and enriches their understanding of the faith.

Prayerfully consider coming to one of our Sponsor orientation & information sessions held on the following dates after 9:45 Mass in the community center:

Sunday, August 30th

Sunday, September 27th

Sunday, October 11th

Please contact Sylvia Olberding at sylvia.olberding@gmail.com or 520-268-3413 for more information.

OCIA Classes Begin Sunday, September 13th from 11:00am -12:30 in the Chapel

The Order of Christian Initiation of Adults is for everyone!

- Fully initiated Catholics, fulfilling Christ's mission to make disciples of all nations, desiring to learn more about our Catholic faith, share that faith, and accompany others as sponsors.
- The unbaptized or those baptized in another Christian faith desiring to learn about the Catholic faith and become a fully initiated member of the Church.
- Baptized Catholics desiring to complete the Sacraments of the Eucharist and Confirmation.

What can you do?

- Pray for continually increased faith, pray for those in your life who may not know Christ or the beauty of our Catholic faith.
- Invite someone in your life to join you at Mass or to consider learning about our faith through the OCIA process.
- Consider participating in the OCIA process as a sponsor and/or catechist. Please join our OCIA team.
